

JOY RIDER LANDS
IN POLICE STATIONBought Car Yesterday and Made
Mad Dash Through
Main Street.

F. J. Zajac, forty-five years old, who said he was the owner of a coal yard in North Seventeenth Street, was arrested last night by Patrolman Campodonica for being drunk and recklessly driving an automobile, which he had only bought yesterday.

According to the officer, Zajac was having a joy ride by himself. He was not speeding the car, it was said, but he was green as a chauffeur, and was cutting zigzags in Main Street, in the vicinity of the First Market, at Seventeenth Street.

Campodonica managed to jump upon the running board of the machine as Zajac was passing Fourteenth Street, and placed him under arrest. He submitted quietly, but when he reached the First Police Station he became unruly, and it was with difficulty that he was lodged in a cell.

Zajac, Campodonica said, was so drunk that he could not sit erect, and was bending far over the steering wheel, which he was turning in all directions, causing the car's course to be irregular and endangering the lives of pedestrians and occupants of passing vehicles.

Zajac, after he was taken in custody, managed to explain that he had just bought the automobile, a second-hand one, and had no license showing to operate it.

RALLY DAY AT PLEASANT VIEW.

Gathering of Teachers and Farmers for Pleasure and Instruction.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Pleasant View, Va., October 21.—One of the most interesting meetings ever held in this section took place on Saturday, when the combined agricultural and educational forces came together at Allwood for a day of instruction and pleasure.

D. M. Gannaway, president of the Farmers' Union, made a very instructive talk upon the work of A. B. Thornhill, business manager, also made a short address, explaining the working of the union. Senator A. F. Thomas, of Lynchburg, made a very interesting speech along the line of legislative work in the union.

Judge C. J. Campbell, of Amherst County, made a very happy manner, explained some points about the Amherst County Fair, which is to be held on October 30, 31 and November 1. He urged all countrymen to join in this community affair and make it a success.

Prof. J. H. Blinford, of Richmond, closed the speaking of the day with a few words to the teachers, and then turned about beautifying the community school, and home by having good buildings, well-equipped teachers, flowers and plants about the home, and by encouraging a sense of pride in the community life.

The women had an abundance of good things to eat.

"IN CENTRE OF THE MOB"

Witness Testifies to Activity of Eitor on Day of Killing.

Salem, Mass., October 21.—Fred Flynn, of the Massachusetts district court, testifying yesterday in the trial of Joseph J. Eitor, Arturo Giovannitti and Jose Caruso, accused of the murder of Anna Lopiz, during the Lawrence textile strike, described the assault in the streets of Lawrence, Jan. 10, 1912, by which Eitor was killed. Flynn testified that the defendant, Eitor, was in the "centre of the mob."

"I had followed the mob from a street car," said Flynn, "when I saw a number of them rush upon a young girl who was carrying a lunch box. They took the box away and threw it into the air. Then they tore off part of her clothing. While this was going on I saw Eitor pass by in the 'centre of the mob.'"

Flynn told of several riots of the morning of that day, disturbances which came to a climax the same afternoon in the killing of Anna Lopiz. He described how he and another officer held back a mob at the Lawrence dye works after arresting a striker who had furnished a revolver and driven a workman from a car near the works.

He identified a cartridge belt containing twenty-five cartridges, a loaded revolver and two knives which he had taken from the prisoner.

Flynn and Officer Michael Byron, who arrested Giovannitti after his indictment, both testified that the defendant admitted advising the strikers to "sleep by day and act like wild animals at night."

On the night Flynn arrested Giovannitti, the defendant, Flynn testified, said to him:

"I don't want you to put any dynamite in here."

"I assured him that I had brought nothing into the house," Flynn continued. Then Giovannitti asked: "Have you got Eitor, too?"

"I told him he would see Eitor at the police station."

Flynn's testimony was not concluded when court adjourned for the day.

JOHNSON IS VIOLENT

Threatens to Kill Officer Who Comes to Serve Subpoena.

Chicago, October 21.—When Attorney Charles E. Stein, representing the mother of Lucille Cameron, visited Jack Johnson's saloon to-day in company with United States deputy marshals to serve subpoenas on witnesses who are to appear before the Federal grand jury, the negro pugilist threatened the lawyer with personal injury.

"Throw that lawyer out of the place or I will kill him," shouted Johnson to one of his bodyguards. Federal officers protected the attorney and served the subpoenas on the mother and nine employees of the saloon with subpoenas before leaving the place.

Johnson could not be found to-day, but Federal officers continued their search. The Federal grand jury investigation into Johnson's alleged violations of the Mann white slave act, is scheduled to begin to-morrow, when Lucille Cameron, her mother and twenty-five other witnesses are expected to testify. The police have reported to Mayor Harrison that Johnson had violated the 1 o'clock closing ordinance a dozen times in the last month and have recommended the revocation of his license. Mayor Harrison has taken a report of the police under consideration.

HIT BY TROLLEY

Negro Driver Is Hurt When Car Struck His Wagon.

John Coby, colored, was badly cut and bruised yesterday when a wagon which he was driving was hit by a car of the Lakeside Division of the Virginia Railway and Power Company at First and Jackson Streets. Coby was rendered emergency treatment by Dr. H. T. Hawkins, City Hospital ambulance surgeon, and removed to the Virginia Hospital. He was able to leave later in the day, and went to his home, 66 Jackson Street. The car which collided with Coby was in charge of Motorman H. A. Hazeledorn and Conductor W. A. Coggins.

ROMANOFF TRIAL TO-DAY

Charged With Picking Pocket During State Fair Week.

A Romanoff, who was arrested on Thursday during the State Fair, and charged with taking a purse from the pocket of W. F. Bullock, will be tried before Magistrate T. J. Puryear this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Romanoff's case was first called on the Saturday following his arrest, but postponed at the request of Gilbert K. Pollock, his counsel.

George A. Holderness, of Tarboro, N. C., and J. R. Freeman, of Baltimore, in the same case, are the principal witnesses for the Commonwealth, and it is understood that both will be present in this afternoon's trial.

Pollock is a North Carolina witness, and the North Carolina witnesses resulted from the attorney's effort to have the case postponed.

Manager Chance said he did not believe President Murphy had chosen a new manager, but he might select one later.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.

Chance said it was "a dog's life" to manage a team under Murphy, as the players were hated to play for him. Chance said Murphy had been treated badly, but that the only players obtained by the Cubs had been procured without the help of the club president, except Throck and Murphy, and then for nothing.